If you are a director of a company in Japan, you need to have a good understanding of the various issues surrounding your role. This is especially true if you are the Representative Director of a K.K. (or Executive Manager of a G.K.), where your responsibilities are even greater.

In this seminar, we will examine the key issues of concern to directors, including those of foreign directors of companies. Particular emphasis will be given to the duties and responsibilities of directors, the legal liabilities, the tax implications, and the various ways to manage all these risks.

This overview will better prepare you when faced with the unexpected issues that arise in Japan, especially in these uncertain times. Our aim is to provide straightforward, practical answers on to how to navigate the pitfalls of operating a company in Japan.
